

Tavares Strachan Orthostatic Tolerance

Tavares Strachan Orthostatic Tolerance

Tavares Strachan: Orthostatic Tolerance About The surf surrounding Tavares Strachan's (b. 1979, lives New York) hometown of Nassau, Bahamas, is the site of an experimental rocket launch.

Tavares Strachan: Orthostatic Tolerance - ICA Philadelphia

The MIT List Visual Arts Center is pleased to present Orthostatic Tolerance: It Might Not Be Such a Bad Idea if I Never Went Home, the next phase of a new project by Bahamian-born, New York-based artist Tavares Strachan. Since 2006, Strachan has been working on this multiphase body of work that explores space and deep-sea training.

Tavares Strachan: Orthostatic Tolerance/It Might Not Be ...

Tavares Strachan: seen/unseen is a closed exhibition curated by Jean Crutchfield and Robert Hobbs that took place from September 19 th through October 28th of 2011 at an undisclosed location in New York City.. In recognition of the theme that presence and absence assume in the work of Tavares Strachan, a Bahamian-born and Manhattan-based artist, this large-scale overview of his work from 2003 ...

Tavares Strachan seen/unseen

Tavares Henderson Strachan (born December 16, 1979) is a contemporary, conceptual artist whose multi-media installations investigate science, technology, mythology, history, and exploration. He lives and works in New York City and Nassau , Bahamas .

Tavares Strachan - Wikipedia

Tavares Strachan lives and works in New York. Strachan received a B.F.A. from Rhode Island School of Design, Providence and a M.F.A. in 2006 from Yale University, New Haven. Strachan's ambitious and open-ended practice examines the intersection of art, science, and the environment, and has included collaborations with numerous organizations and institutions across the disciplines.

Participating Artists - Tavares Strachan — Faena Festival

Tavares Strachan The Orthostatic Tolerance: Launching into an Infinite Distance February 5 - April 3, 2010 Opening Reception: Friday, February 5th from 6-9PM at Grand Arts Join us on Saturday, February 6th at 2:00PM for a conversation between Tavares Strachan and Grand Arts Artistic Director, Stacy Switzer. All events are free and open to the public.

The Orthostatic Tolerance - grandarts.com

Exhibited in phases between 2008 and 2011, the Orthostatic Tolerance project incorporated photography, video, drawing, sculpture and installation documenting Strachan's experience in cosmonaut training at the Yuri Gagarin Training Center in Star City, Russia and in experiments in space travel conducted in Nassau under the Bahamas Air and ...

Tavares Strachan | MARUANI MERCIER

Orthostatic Tolerance: Launching into an Infinite Distance, Grand Arts, Kansas City, MOO. 2009 You Can Do Whatever You Like (Orthostatic Tolerance Project), Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA. 2008 A Hundred Years, Daniel Weinberg Gallery, Los Angeles, CA Tavares Strachan, Pierogi 2000, Leipzig, Germany

Tavares Strachan - The Other Side of the Sun | Mestre Projects

Tavares Strachan (b. 1979 Nassau, The Bahamas) lives and works in New York. Strachan received a B.F.A. from Rhode Island School of Design, Providence and a M.F.A. in 2006 from Yale University, New Haven.

Tavares Strachan - Exhibitions - Regen Projects

Tavares Strachan's best-known piece may be the 4½-ton block of ice he cut from a frozen river in Alaska and displayed in a refrigerated case at a grade school in his native Bahamas. It was a simple act, but it touched on a range of issues that continue to drive his work. They include the sway of ...

Tavares Strachan - Art in America

TAVARES STRACHAN ORTHOSTATIC TOLERANCE FEBRUARY 5 - APRIL 3, 2010 front cover image: Tavares Strachan, Another Place, 2008. Photograph. The artist and Grand Arts would like to thank the MIT List Visual Arts Center for their assistance and co-production of The Orthostatic Tolerance. forklift holding the 4½ ton block of ice in Alaska.

TAVARES STRACHAN - Grand Arts

Tavares Strachan ABOUT Through his career, Tavares Strachan has engineered a multidisciplinary artistic practice that mobilizes ... In 2004, Strachan initiated an ambitious four-year multimedia body of work entitled Orthostatic Tolerance—the title referring to the physiological stress that cosmonauts endure while exiting and re-entering Earth ...

Tavares Strachan ABOUT - mestreprojects.com

Tavares Strachan and Grand Arts would like to thank the MIT List Visual Arts Center for their assistance and co-production of Orthostatic Tolerance. MIT will present the next phase of the project. Orthostatic Tolerance: It Might Not Be Such a Bad Idea If I Never Went Home, will open at the List Visual Arts Center on May 7th, 2010 on view ...

The Orthostatic Tolerance: Launching Into an Infinite ...

Artist Tavares Strachan will represent the inauguration of the The Bahamas pavilion in the 55th International Venice Biennale. The exhibition is located at The Arsenale - Tese Cinquecentesche in Venice Italy and is open to the public from June 1st through November 24, 2013.

